828 INTERNATIONAL NAMES MATT TOLLISON SALES MANAGER

GREENVILLE, SC, June 30, 2006— 828 International is pleased to name Matt Tollison as Sales Manager for North Carolina and South Carolina, effective immediately. Tollison is based in Greenville, SC and reports directly to Tom Morris, National Sales Manager for 828 International. In his new position, Tollison will focus on increasing 828's sales and market share in these key states.

Tollison is an 8-year veteran of 828 International. Most recently he was business development manager, but he has held additional positions within the service and sales departments. Through experience, he has gained a broad understanding of the rug industry and the many ways 828's programs and services can make retailers more profitable. Tollison—a native of Greenville, SC—also has extensive knowledge of the Southeast market, which is certain to be of benefit to 828's customers.

“Matt has been an integral part of our growth over the years and has proven to be a valuable member of our team,” says Morris. “His experience and success will enhance our dealer relationships and further drive our business.”
